To whom it may concern,

Alexia was one of my students in the journalism masters programme '25-'26 and I took her for many classes over the whole year which meant that I got to know her work and her character well. I enjoyed having her in the class - she is always enthusiastic and always gives her full attention to everything she does with a positive and engaging approach. It makes her easy to teach and to converse with, and it's clear that she'll be an asset to wherever she works.

I have no doubt that she will always give her undivided attention to the task at hand. She understands the journalistic process and what it takes to become a good journalist with an integrity in her work which is refreshing to see.

I have absolutely no hesitation in recommending Alexia - she'll do well in whatever she puts her journalistic hand to and she'll always do it with energy and enthusiasm.

Yours faithfully,

Chris Chambers
